ARRANGEMENT AND NUMBERING

Beginning with Thomas A. Scurlock, 1786-1847, earliest known ancestor in America, this document is developed around seven of his eleven children, who had children of their own. A 'chapter' is devoted to each of these seven and their descendants, even though some of the chapters are quite brief.

Each generation is indicated by the appropriate numeral at the left side of the page; and the individual's generation is further indicated by showing in order the names of each of his or her ancestors back to and including

Thomas A. Scurlock.

The numbering system is simple. It consists of three kinds of numerals:

A) - a Roman Number in CAPITALS indicates the chapter in which the individual's name appears; B) - this is followed by an arabic numeral which identifies the individual; and, C) - a roman number written in lower case letters indicates the order of the individual's birth in that family constellation. Examples:

- a) - I-29-ii Scurlock Watts, indicates he is found in Chapter I, that his identification number is 29, and that he was the second child born in that family;
- b) - V-25-viii Virgie Dawdy, shows she is found in Chapter V, that her identification number is 25, and that she was the eighth child born in her family.

The Index is designed to facilitate the finding of an individual, and tracing his or her family relationships, even though his or her particular branch of the family is not known in advance. It is our hope that you will enjoy use of this document.

INTRODUCTION

The name Scurlock is not a common one. It has taken many forms of spelling. Its' source is not clear. Use of family names began in the eleventh century in England, and frequently were descriptive of occupation or social position. Four centuries later in the year 1463, King Edward V made the surname obligatory. He said, "they shall take unto themselves a surname either of some town, or some color, as black or brown, or some art or science as smyth or carpenter, or some office as cooke or butler".

Origin of the name Scurlock has not been definitely established. Taking the spelling as a clue, it has been pointed out that the name in Scotland would have been spelled Scurloch, and the ending "loch" means lake. Similarly, the name in Ireland probably would have been spelled Scurlough, and the ending "lough" means stream.

There is evidence that persons with the name Scurlock have lived in West Wales since the 13th Century, and we are reliably informed that there are Scurlock families living in Swansea today. Certain members of the Scurlock family were prominent in Carmarthen in the 17th Century. "According to an inscription on the tomb of John Scurlock in St. Peter's Church, who died in 1682, the ancestors of the Carmarthen Scurlocks came from Ireland."¹

Sir Richard Steele (1671-1729), Knight, Author, Essayist, married Mary Scurlock of Carmarthen, Wales in 1707.² He is buried in St. Peters, Carmarthen, in the vault of the Scurlock family.³ She was buried in Westminster Abbey in 1718.⁴

INTRODUCTION

Among the early American immigrants, we understand, was a William Scurlough who migrated from Wales to Spotsylvania County, Virginia before the Revolutionary War. The spelling of the name was later changed to Scurlock. This man is reported to have had three sons, William, Joshua, and Mial. A partial and quite sketchy account of the descendants of the son Joshua has been carried to the eighth generation.

There are records of nine Scurlock men, possibly more, who fought in the Revolutionary War, principally from Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina. The most prominent of these, perhaps, is Mial Scurlock of Chatham County, North Carolina. He and his four sons, James, George, Joseph, and Thomas fought in the War for Independence, and two of the sons, George and Joseph lost their lives in the Battle of Cowpens, Jan. 17, 1781. "Mial Scurlock was appointed on the peace committee for Chatham County, N.C. in August, 1774; he was also appointed Major by the Congress of North Carolina, Sept. 9, 1775, and again April 22, 1776. He died in 1785, and his land in Chatham County was not paid for at the time of his death. Congress passed a law December 2, 1785, allowing his widow, Sarah, and executrix, six pounds per acre for the land in which Pittsboro, the County Seat, is laid out. The Chatham County courthouse at Pittsboro, N.C. is built on land that was formerly his."⁵

Mial Scurlock's son, Lt. James Scurlock, who served in the Revolutionary War, married Lydia Poore in 1784. They had nine children. The oldest, William, born in 1786, married Miss Grace Long. Their two sons, William, born Oct. 1807, and Mial, born in 1809, moved to Tennessee, then to Mississippi, and in 1834 to San Augustine, Texas. They both distinguished themselves in the War

INTRODUCTION

Texas Independence. William, a Captain, was involved in a number of engagements, and was frequently referred to as the 'man with the charmed life' because of his escapes during the Texas Revolution. He married Frances Thompson, and represented Red River County, Texas in Congress 1839-1840. Mial Scurlock volunteered Oct. 17, 1835 and took part in the siege of Bexar. He remained with the force in San Antonio as a Private, and was killed in the Alamo on March 6, 1836.⁶ Years later the State of Texas granted a section of land in Callahan County to the descendants of Mial Scurlock in recognition of his service in the Texas Revolution.

This document is a partial and incomplete account of one branch of the Scurlock family. It begins with our earliest known ancestor in America, Thomas A. Scurlock, born Sept. 14, 1786, place unknown. It thus covers a period of almost 200 years, and parallels the life of our country as a nation. It also identifies nearly 800 descendants.

Thomas A. Scurlock was living in Laurens County, South Carolina in 1810 and it is possible, indeed quite probable, that he was directly related to the family of Ann Scurlock, householder, reported in the 1790 Census, living in Laurens County, S. C. That connection, if indeed it did exist, is still to be determined. Hopefully someone in the future will carry this research further, and eventually trace this branch of the Scurlock family back to their arrival in this country -- and to their ancestral home.

The author cannot remember when he was not interested in genealogy. This interest, perhaps, was planted by stories of pioneer days told by his grandmother, who died in 1907. His interest has grown from that beginning, and has been stimulated by a desire to preserve something of the past for present and future generations. The changes that have come about in the world during his life have exceeded those of all of the history of mankind -- and suggest even greater changes in the future. At a time when people tend to lose their identification as individuals and become numbers in a growing computerized society, it is important, too, to remember that whatever we are as a society and as a nation depends upon what we are as individuals. The author views this work as part payment of a debt we all owe to those who have gone before; and more importantly, it is payment of a debt to those yet to follow -- lest we forget the cost of our Christian and national heritage of liberty. It has been said that America is a demonstration of what ordinary people can accomplish in a climate of freedom. We, then, should be proud of what these ordinary Americans have accomplished in the last 200 years, and should foster and encourage that pride in the younger generations.

This document has been more than a half-century in the making, and represents the interest and assistance of many persons. The research has included writing letters to hundreds of persons in every part of the country; reading and checking public records in courthouses, historical libraries, and the U.S. Department of Archives in Washington. Birth, death, and marriage records were reviewed and often checked against Census records. Other sources of information include probate, cemetery, tax, and military records. Every effort has been made to establish the facts, and to maintain validity in the document.

One of the most fruitful sources of information has been that of family correspondence. Immediately following this general statement appear selected quotes from a number of Mollie Scurlock's letters to her brother, James, who at the time was serving in the Army of the Confederacy during the War Between the States. Her letters reveal the closeness of the family ties, and answer for us many questions of family relationships which would otherwise have remained a mystery.

In this history will not be found any Scurlocks who were presidents, senators, governors, or what might be regarded as famous people. On the other hand, the detailed investigation which has been made does not reveal the name of any infamous Scurlocks. The record demonstrates that they were good, solid citizens, loyal to their family, community, and country. The author is proud to be a Scurlock.

In spite of all efforts to preserve validity, it is certain that errors will be found. In such instances the author will appreciate having the correct information for use in keeping the data up-to-date.

This publication does not end the search for additional information. There are many kinsmen of whom I have never heard, and who had no opportunity to have a part in this edition. The work, hopefully, will continue with your help, until accumulated data demands a future revision.

I am grateful to all those persons who have had some part in development of this document, without whose assistance it could not have been completed. I wish to mention the following particularly for the service they have rendered:

Frank J. Scurlock of Dallas, Texas has made a substantial contribution to this family history. His ideas, suggestions and active interest have proved invaluable. We have collaborated for years and he made trips to Oklahoma City for conferences. His final contribution to the task has been checking the finished product before going to press.

FAMILY CORRESPONDENCE

This section contains selected quotes from letters written by Mollie, daughter of John Moore Scurlock, to her brother, James W. Scurlock, during the years 1862 and 1863, while he was serving with the Army of the Confederacy during the War between the States. Mollie was 17 years of age in 1862. Two letters quoted are those of John Moore Scurlock, which accompanied letters from Mollie, and which reveal family relationships and the agony and suffering caused by the war, both on the battlefield and on the home front. We believe these letters serve to make the characters come alive, and to portray their problems in such manner that they are better understood by the reader, than they could be in any other way. Where explanatory notes or identification of persons mentioned appear to be called for they are provided in parenthesis.

The availability of these letters in 1977 is most extraordinary. It is unusual that James kept the letters and that they have been preserved and passed down from generation to generation. We are indebted and grateful to Mrs. Wayne Morrow of Rusk, Texas for this contribution.

Dear Brother:

I take my pen in hand this morning to write you a few lines to let you know that we are all well. The weather is dry and we are needing rain very bad. Wheat does not look near so well as it did last winter, nor stock near so fine.

The boys are nearly all gone from here now, and those that are not gone will start in a few days.

FAMILY CORRESPONDENCE

Jimmie, since I have been writing we have heard that William Powell dead. Capt. Neir wrote to Col. Gathem that he was dead, but we have not heard the particulars. Hugh McDaniels is dead. He came home and died two days afterward. Billy Wilder, son of Capt. Wilder that lives down in Hill County, is also dead. He died before he got home. Poor boys, many have died and many more will die.

I reckon from newspaper accounts our Texas troops in Virginia are suffering greatly from sickness. The paper says that out of two regiments in Virginia, there are only 400 to 600 men able to bear arms.

Mother says you must write often. Write something about Grandpa. (Malcom Thompson, father of Katherine, the mother of Mollie & James.) Aunt "Becca" (Rebecca (Criner) Scurlock, wife of James Franklin Scurlock) has been here this evening. She said to tell you to take good care of yourself and be a good boy, and when you come home she will give you a party and invite all of the girls.

Grandma (Anne, mother of John Moore Scurlock) says tell you she has just finished you a new pair of socks, and is now peacing you a quilt.

I will bring this letter to a close as it is Friday night, and I commence this letter several days past. Write soon.

Your most affectionate sister

FAMILY CORRESPONDENCE

Grandview, Johnson Co., Texas
Feb. the 27th, 1862

Dear Brother:

We received your letter today, dated Feb. 2nd, and was very glad to hear from you. We also received one from Grandpa last Saturday.

The mail seems to be very unregular. I have written to you, but you have not gotten my letters. I intend to write to you often, whether my letters ever get to you or not. You do not know how sorry we were to hear that you had never received a letter from us.

Jimmie it would look strange to you, I guess, to see the girls act as they do. When they want to go to church or anywhere else they will get together and go, without any body to even hitch their horses, and do not seem to care at all. They are all as bad as ever, and say they would not marry a man to save his life that is as cowardly as to stay home these times.

Tell Grandpa that I will write to him next week. Remember the instructions in that little book that contains the ten commandments. So, no more - your sister as ever. Goodbye.

Mollie A. Scurlock

Jimmie we have no such thing as envelopes. This is one of my own make. If I had suitable paper I could make them tolerable well, but this will have to answer my purpose now.

Grandview, Texas, June 13, 1862

Mr. J. W. Scurlock

Dear Brother:

We received your letter last week of April 23rd and were very glad to hear from you, but sorry to hear you had been sick, and also to hear Grandpa and Uncle William were sick. (Uncle William Thompson, brother of Katherine, Mollie's mother) We had not heard anything definite from about this time in April. We got a letter from you about then that was written the 1st of March. Jennie Jones received a letter two weeks ago from J. W. Lowe that was written while you were in the hospital at Jacksonport. (Jacksonport, Arkansas)

Jimmie, I wrote you about the time Malcom was starting. I thought he belonged to Johnson's Regiment. Johnson and Darnell were then making up a Regiment called Johnsons. They got enough for two regiments and it happened that Malcom went into Darnell's. Uncle Hood and A.C. Scurlock, and in fact nearly all that were able went. (Andrew Hood, husband of Adaliza Scurlock, sister of Mollie's father. A.C. - Alonzo Scurlock, son of James Franklin and cousin of Mollie.) After they left Clarksville to go to Little Rock, they organized anew, and all that the conscript law would let off came home. Some of them have not got here yet. Uncle Hood among others came. Alonzo is coming as soon as he gets well. He was left in Washington (Arkansas) Hospital with the measles.

FAMILY CORRESPONDENCE

Perhaps the fortunes of war will allow you to return. If so, you know there will be joyous hearts. If not, live so as to meet in another world.

Your true sister,

Mollie A. Scurlock

Dear son:

I write you this morning, but little hope of your ever getting it. We have received two letters from you since you were sent to Macon Hospital. One on 17th of June, the other 20 July. It would be in vain for me to describe the uneasiness of mind that we have underwent, since we heard that you was sent off to the hospital, somewhere, and we knew not where for a long time.

After a good while I got off to Cherokee. I found a good many of your company through Capt. Wiggings and Murry. The last named could tell me that you was at Macon, and that he had heard that you and Gerry Heile were better, and at a private house. I stayed nine days and could hear nothing more from you. That was in July. The last week in August your first letter came. The second sent by C. O. Harris, came the 4th of this month.

When I got to Jacksonville I met the unwelcome news of the death of your Grandpa. He died suddenly is all we could learn. I learned this from a letter to his parents by Jo Fransis.

FAMILY CORRESPONDENCE

As for news we have nothing very interesting in our country. Our State is not invaded yet. We have enough to eat, and have no fears about bread and meat.

Dear son take the best care you can of yourself physically and spiritually and always look to Him that is able to save you by His grace in life and in death. I will close and refer you to your sister's part for particulars. Write when you have the opportunity and we will do the same.

Dear brother:

I take my pen in hand this morning to write you a few lines to let you know that we are well, but deeply affected in mind, having heard of the death of dear brother Malcom. I cannot tell you the particulars of his death for we have never heard and fear we never will. Mrs. Chorn received a letter from Mr. Chorn in Camp Chase Prison. He wrote that Malcom died, and several others of our neighbor boys. It is a hard trial indeed to think of giving up our brother, and not knowing where, or how, or when he died, but I hope and believe he is better off than in this troublesome world.

FAMILY CORRESPONDENCE

Jimmie, I suppose you have heard of the death of Uncle James and Cousin Tommie. (James Franklin Scurlock, brother of John Moore - Mollie's father; and Thomas Alfred, son of James Franklin and Mollie's Cousin). They were prisoners from December 25th until Feb. 15th. During that time Tommie died with the measles, Jan. 28th, (1863) They were treated like dogs, and at last consented to take the oath, rather than die. They took it, but it was too late for Uncle. He died on the 4th of March, (1863) Jimmie I will quit awhile and I expect Pa will write some. If he doesn't I will finish. I am going to send this by a gentleman across the river, and I think you will get it. No more at present - but as ever your sister.

Mollie

Dear son:

With an aching heart I take my pen in hand to write you a few lines in your sister's letter, but with not much hope of your getting it. As for news of the death of your dear brother and friends I refer you to your sister's letter.

It is heart-rending to have to give up a dear boy, brothers, fathers, and friends in this unholy war as we have to do, but we have to bow to the will of the Great One above. Our dear boys and friends have had our poor prayers, day and night, ever since you left home, and we are left to mourn and only hope for the better in Malcom's future happiness. We know he was a good boy at home, but don't know what effect camp life had on his religious course. It seems that I am left almost alone, and I am the most lonesome creature you ever saw. We have written so many letters and gave all the news. We have become discouraged about your ever getting any more from us.

Dear son live in reference to another mode of living beyond the grave - that if we never meet again on earth, we may all meet in Heaven, where we can turnover all our suffering - and where war is no more. Give my respects to your mess mates. So, I will close for the present.

Dear brother:

I have no news of great interest. Times are hard and dull as ever. It has been sometime since we have heard from you. We received the letter you sent by Mr. Gibson one month after it was written. We were glad to hear from you, and I assure you I was glad to receive those nice envelopes and sheets of paper. You asked me to fill the sheet and send it back, and I intend to do it, but I am now at Aunt Rebecca's and am writing on some of her paper. Pa intends to start to Cherokee tomorrow and I will send it by him. I think he will meet with a chance to send it to you.

If you have received any of my letters which I have written lately, you know that Pa was drafted. He has been to camp up on the Brazos River, though they have not kept him regular. He has the promise of a discharge though he does not have much hope of getting it. He is now fifty years old and I think it likely they will let him off. They are now kept for frontier service.

FAMILY CORRESPONDENCE

We heard last week that Uncle Hood was dead, but heard better in a day or two afterwards. He was in the hospital sick, but had gotten well enough to leave the last we heard. (Andrew Hood, husband of Adaliza Scurlock, sister of John Moore - died a few days after this letter was written - Oct. 2, 1863 - died of the measles in Louisiana.)

Jimmie, Aunt Rebecca says to tell you she has not forgotten you and that she wishes you well. She also says if you get sick you must go to a private house if possible for she can't bear the idea of any of her friends going to a hospital.

I promised to tell you something of our meetings. There has been several protracted meetings at Grandview this summer. Among those who professed was Alonzo, John, Due, and Della Scurlock, (all children of James Franklin Scurlock and Rebecca Jane Criner) Willie Hood, (son of Andrew Hood and Adaliza Scurlock) Sally (Criner) Gephard; and also Dr. Suzy and Helen Criner; Billie, Martha, and Etna Davis, and several others. There has been indeed a reviving time. Cousin Alonzo professed at home one night during the meeting. He had a very hard time, and says he does not intend to backslide anymore. He had gotten very wicked and many of his friends were uneasy about him.

The Indians have been committing depredations on the frontier this fall. They have killed several in Johnson County, but we don't think they will get this far down.

Jimmie, I could scratch here half the night, but paper is scarce. Oh, I do want to see you so bad, and I do hope you will get this sometime. But my brother, if we never meet on earth again, let us make an unbroken family in Heaven -- this is my daily prayer.

Goodbye - Your sister,

Mollie

THOMAS A. SCURLOCK

Thomas A. Scurlock - 1786 - 1847

Earliest known ancestor in America, b. Sept. 14, 1786, place to be determined, d. April 14, 1847, probably in Jackson County, Alabama; m. Anne (Surname to be determined), b. May 15, 1789, South Carolina, d. March 19, Cherokee County, Texas, bur. Old Piney Cemetery, near Gallatin, Texas; marriage ca 1808.

He was a farmer and lay Methodist minister according to family tradition. The family lived in Laurens County, S.C. in 1810, and here five of the children were born. About 1819 the family moved to Lincoln County, Tennessee where they lived for the next twenty years, and here six more children were born. In the last half of the year 1829, the family moved again. This time to Jackson County, Alabama. Following the death of the husband and father in April, 1830, and later that same year, Anne and several of the children migrated to Cherokee County, Texas, settling near Rusk, county seat. This trip of perhaps 800 miles or more, with horse-drawn or ox-drawn wagons, over roads that in places were little more than trails, must have been attended by hardships exceeding the wildest imagination of present-generation Americans.

Usually a number of families traveled together, comprising a caravan of people having the same general destination. They largely lived off the wild game of the county, and slept on the ground when the weather permitted. The trip must have required from 30 to 40 days and may have required even longer, and one can imagine the relief that was theirs when finally they reached their destination.

The estate of Thomas A. Scurlock was probated in Madison County, Alabama, where so far as is known he had never lived, in October 1887, forty years after his death. The estate, according to the administrator, was com prised of several shares of stock in the "Memphis and Charlston" Railroad Company, which were depreciating in value. With approval of the court the stock was sold at a private sale, and costs of administration were such that only $8.75 remained to be paid to his descendants. Among members of the family named in the court proceedings was, "John Scurlock, who was a brother of Thomas A. Scurlock". The document states that this John Scurlock lived in Johnson County, Texas, which we believe was in error. It is entirely possible that Thomas A. Scurlock had a brother named John, but we are reasonably certain he did not live in Johnson County, Texas. Eleven children were born to this union - surname Scurlock:

- i Mahala Watts Scurlock, b. Aug. 13, 1809, S.C., d. after 1880, supposedly in Cherokee County, Texas; m. Malcom Thompson, b. ca 1802, N.C., d. August, 1862, while serving in the Confederate Army in the War Between the States. She was his second wife, and had no children of her own. Malcom Thompson's first wife was Polly Broyles, widow, whose first husband was Wiley Davis. Polly Broyles had one child, George Washington Davis, by her first husband. She and Malcom were married April 13, 1822, probably in Jackson County, Alabama. A number of children were born to this union, including Catherine V. Thompson, Eliza Jane Thompson, William B. Thompson, and others. Malcom Thompson's relationship to the Scurlock family was unique. His daughter, Catherine V. Thompson, married John Moore Scurlock, and his step-son, George Washington Davis married Anna Caroline Scurlock, and after her death, married her younger sister, Mary Calidony Scurlock.

DESCENDANTS OF T. A. S. THROUGH JAMES FRANKLIN SCURLOCK

Generation 2 James Franklin (I-2) Scurlock - Thomas A. 1811-1863

James Franklin Scurlock, oldest son and second child of Thomas A. Scurlock and his wife, Anne, was b. April 16, 1811, S.C., d. March 4, 1863, at Millican's Bend in Louisiana, near Vicksburg, while serving with the Texas Militia during the War Between the States; m. Rebecca Jane Criner, dau. of Isaac Criner and Nancy McCain, b. Nov. 22, 1819, Alabama, d. Aug. 22, 1874, Johnson County, Texas; marriage, Oct. 29, 1844, Madison County, Alabama. He was a merchant and soldier. During the Indian Wars in Florida, he served as Private in Captain Joshua Scurlock's Company, Cawlfeld's Battalion, Alabama Mounted Volunteers, along with his brother, John Moore Scurlock, from. Sept. 8, 1836, to Sept. 12, 1837. There can be but little doubt that there existed a family relationship between the Captain and himself, but what relationship remains to be established. They enlisted the same day, at the same place, and for the same period of time; and at the end of the service period they were discharged on the same day and at the same place.

Following his military service in Florida, he was engaged in the general mercantile business for a number of years in New Market, Alabama. It was here he met his future wife, Rebecca Jane Criner, whose father, Isaac Criner, was one of the first white men to settle in northern Alabama. In 1855, he moved to Texas, following his mother, Anne, and several of his brothers and sisters, who had moved to Texas eight years earlier. Unlike the others, however, he settled in Johnson County, near the present site of the town of Grandview. Here he purchased approximately 1200 acres of land, started a general store, organized a new town of Grand View (two words), and served for a time as postmaster. He built the first house constructed of "bought" lumber, and had it hauled from Houston, a distance of over 200 miles, with ox-drawn wagons. He donated land for a new Methodist church and Masonic Hall, and helped raise funds for their construction. There is little doubt that a number of residents of Cherokee County, Texas, including his brother, John Moore Scurlock, were influenced by him to move to Grandview.

When the War Between the States began, James Franklin Scurlock was commissioned as Lieutenant Colonel in the Texas Militia and given the task of providing food for the Confederate Army in Southern Louisiana. Enroute with some cattle for the army, he, a fifteen year-old son, Thomas Alfred, and two neighbors, Mr. Lewis Goen, and Captain Morrow, were captured by federal troops, and placed in a federal prison camp. According to an account carried in a History of Johnson and Hill Counties, entitled "The Lone Star State" by Garner, published 1892, Lewis Publishing Company, Chicago, they contracted a "fever", and while the others recovered and later returned home, James Franklin and his son, Thomas Alfred, both died. The place of their deaths was reported to have been at Millican's Bend, about 20 miles from Vicksburg on the Louisiana side of the Mississippi River. Supposedly they were buried near the place of their deaths; however, the place is yet to be specifically determined.

Generation 3 Alonzo Criner (I-9) Scurlock - James Franklin - Thomas A.

Alonzo Criner Scurlock, oldest child of James Franklin Scurlock and Rebecca Jane Criner, was b. Nov. 18, 1845, Madison County, Alabama, d. 1907, Amarillo, Texas, bur. Cleburne, Texas; m. Julia May Lorange, dau. of T. D. Lorange, b. April 3, 1866, Ft. Worth, d. July 11, 1954, Dallas, Texas; marriage April 3, 1884, Cleburne, Texas.

He was about ten years of age when the family moved from Alabama to Texas. At age 15 he entered Bosqueville College, McLennan County, and a year later enlisted in the Army of the Confederacy, Company G., Colonel Waller's Battalion, General Tom Green's Brigade. During the next year he was in several engagements. A letter from the Office of the Adjutant General dated April 4, 1931, in response to inquiry stated there was no record of Scurlock in that organization but stated further: "The records show, however, that one Alonzo C. Scurlock, Private, Co. A., 18 Regiment Texas Cavalry, Confederate States Army, enlisted March 1, 1862, at Dallas, Texas. Muster roll for Jan. 15 to June 30, 1862, show him present. His name is not borne on subsequent rolls on file for that Company, which cover the period from July 1, 1862 to April 30, 1864, and no later record has been found." It is a matter of family history and tradition that he was under age on his first enlistment, and was sent home. He subsequently reenlisted. There apparently is some confusion in the two enlistments. After his death the State of Texas granted his widow a Confederate Widow's Pension. After the War he attended Oakland College in Johnson County, Texas, farmed, and engaged in the mercantile business. In 1878, he moved to Cleburne and became associated with, and later sole owner of, the Cleburne Chronicle, which he published for more than 25 years. In the Dallas Morning News Issue of April 4, 1934, under the column "Dallas and State 50 Years Ago," appeared the following item: "A. C. Scurlock, editor and business manager of the Cleburne Chronicle and Miss May Lorange, one of Cleburne's finest daughters, were married last night, April 3, 1884, at the Episcopal Church." Also in the "Fifty Years Ago" column of the Dallas Morning News of May 11, 1943, appeared the following: "A. C. Scurlock of the Cleburne Chronicle was elected President of the Texas Press Association." About 1904, he moved to Amarillo, Texas, but did not move his family. He died in Amarillo in 1907, and was buried in Cleburne. Ten children were born to this union, all in Cleburne -- surname Scurlock:

DESCENDANTS OF T. A. S. THROUGH JAMES FRANKLIN SCURLOCK

Generation 3 John Calvin (I-10) Scurlock - James Franklin - Thomas A.
1850-1878

John Calvin Scurlock, fourth child born to James Franklin Scurlock and Rebecca Jane Criner, was b. Sept. 30, 1850 in New Market, Ala., d. June 8, 1878, Belle Plain, Texas; m. Elizabeth Catherine Gunn, b. Sept. 11, 1851, Alabama, d. Dec. 27, 1907, Cleburne, Texas. bur. Grandview, Texas; marriage ca 1871.

He was about five years old when the family migrated from Alabama to Johnson County, Texas. Too young for military service during the War Between the States, he became the 'man of the house' when his father and two older brothers left for service with the Army of the Confederacy. His father and one of the older brothers died in the conflict, which doubtless forced early acceptance of responsibilities on his part not normally known to one so young.

He was a lover of the out-of-doors, and at an early age became interested in livestock raising. Attracted by opportunities in the cattle business in West Texas, he started a cattle ranch ca 1872 in what is now Runnels County, Texas on the Little Colorado River near the present village of Bronte. Here he leased several thousand acres of land on the north side of the river. Beyond these were many miles of 'free range', which offered opportunities for expansion. In time competition for land became so acute there resulted disputes, quarrels, frequent fights, and an occasional killing. In 1878, at the age of 27, he was shot and killed in such a quarrel at Belle Plain, Texas, where supposedly he is buried, although his grave has yet to be definitely identified. Catherine, his wife, was left a widow with three small children at age 26. She never remarried.

DESCENDANTS OF T. A. S. THROUGH JAMES FRANKLIN SCURLOCK

During the time he operated the ranch the family continued to live at Grandview, Texas. He felt the country around the ranch was still too wild in which to rear a family, although he looked forward to the time when he could bring Catherine and the children to the ranch to live. In the meantime, he divided his time as best he could between the ranch and home, which were approximately 175 miles apart. He traveled horseback between the two, spending four to five days hard riding each way.

In the early spring of 1874, John Calvin took his family, consisting of Catherine and two children, Lola, age 2, and John Calvin, Jr., born Jan. 28th that year, with him for a visit to the ranch. They remained during the spring and summer, returning to their home at Grandview in September. Their nearest neighbor, according to Catherine, was ten miles; the nearest white woman thirty miles; and the nearest town, Buffalo Gap, forty miles. In August of that year, John Calvin made a shopping trip to San Antonio to purchase supplies for the winter. The trip was approximately 175 miles one way, made by wagons over roads that at best were mere trails in places. The trip at best would require two weeks, and much longer in event of bad weather and muddy roads.

Catherine rejected the suggestion that she and the children accompany him the first forty miles and visit a family there until his return. She would have enjoyed visiting with another white woman, but felt this would be an intrusion and inconvenience for people they hardly knew. Although assured that the practice of the frontier recognized no strangers and refused shelter to no one, she still opted for home at the ranch during this time.

DESCENDANTS OF T. A. S. THROUGH JAMES FRANKLIN SCURLOCK

She persuaded him she would be safe, since the ranch hands, including her brother, Bob Gunn, would be there. There had been some rumors that the Comanches up north in the Indian Territory were threatening trouble, but no one seemed to take these stories seriously.

When sufficient time had elapsed she was expecting him back; she was warned one afternoon that the Comanches were coming and advised to leave immediately since the Indians were expected that night. In the meantime, the ranch hands had been working farther and farther from the ranch house, and she and the children were left alone. She described in detail the horrors of that night, when she expected any minute to have the house attacked and possibly burned. She armed herself and prepared to protect her children and herself as best she could. Early next morning her husband arrived. He had heard of the raid and had left the wagons and ridden all night to reach home. It was then they learned the Comanches had crossed the Little Colorado just two miles west of their ranch house the night before. There were but two crossings on the river at that time for miles in either direction, one right next to the ranch house, the other two miles west. It is little wonder that a young mother would remember such an experience and be able to describe it in such vivid detail to her grandchildren thirty years later. Three children were born to this union surname Scurlock:

I-17-i Lola Scurlock, b. Feb. 20, 1872 - more later.

I-18-ii John Calvin Scurlock, Jr., b. Jan. 28, 1874 - more later.

DESCENDANTS OF T. A. S. THROUGH JOHN MOORE SCURLOCK

Generation 2 John Moore (II-3) Scurlock - Thomas A. 1813 - 1875

John Moore Scurlock, third child and second son of Thomas A. Scurlock and his wife, Anne, was b. in S. C., Sept. 26, 1813, d. April 11, 1875, Cherokee County, Texas, buried Jones Cemetery between Rusk and Jacksonville, Texas; m. Katherine V. Thompson, dau. of Malcom Thompson and Polly Broyles Davis, b. Oct. 25, 1825, Jackson County, Alabama, d. Jan. 10, 1896, Cherokee County, Texas; marriage date, Jan. 10, 1839, Jackson County, Alabama. He was a soldier, farmer and stock-raiser.

At age 23, he enlisted and served along with his brother, James Franklin Scurlock, as a Private in Capt. Scurlock's Company, Cawlfeld's Battalion, Alabama Mounted Volunteers during the Indian Wars in Florida. There is little doubt there existed a family relationship between himself and his Captain; however, the nature of that relationship is still to be determined. The period of enlistment was from Sept. 8, 1836 to Sept. 12, 1837. It has been established that he, his brother, James Franklin, and their Captain, Joshua Scurlock, enlisted at Claysville, Alabama on the same day, and for the same period of time.

About 1847, he moved his family to Cherokee County, Texas, along with his Mother, Anne, and several of his brothers and sisters. This move was a major undertaking at that time and must have required considerable planning and entailed much hardship. The most direct -- as-the-crow-flies route, over 600 miles with wagons -- may have meant many more miles. An average of 20 miles per day would have meant 30 days on the road. Usually there were several families, relatives and friends, traveling together. If someone had but kept a diary or journal, it very well could be a "best seller" today.

On Jan. 7, 1852 he was approved for a grant of 160 acres of land in Cherokee County, Texas for his military service (Warrant No. 12715). He moved his family to Johnson County, Texas in the late 1850s or early 1860s, settling at Grandview, probably at the behest of his brother, James Franklin Scurlock, founder of the town of Grandview, Texas. He was living here in 1862 and 1863, as revealed by his daughter Mollie's letters mentioned earlier. In 1863 he was drafted by the Texas Militia for service in the War Between the States, but later was released because of his age. Later he moved his family back to Cherokee County where he died. John Moore's widow, Katherine, was approved for a soldier-widow's pension, effective July 27, 1892 (Certificate No. 991) in the amount of $8.00 per month.

Three children were born to this union - surname Scurlock:

T. McHall, 1st Brigade, 2nd Division; and later as a member of Ector's Brigade, Army of General John B. Hood. John M. Claiborne, former member of General Hood's staff, eulogized James W. Scurlock in a letter addressed to the Masonic Lodge of Rusk, Texas, of which Scurlock was a member, the day after his funeral. In that letter Claiborne praised Scurlock for bravery under fire during the battle for the city of Nashville in December, 1864. During his military service he received a number of letters written by his sister, Mollie, which he kept, and which have been of inestimable value in development of this document. He m. Mattie E. Generation 3 Mary A. (II-10) Scurlock, known as Mollie - John Moore -
 Thomas A. ca 1845 - ?

Mary, or Mollie, daughter and youngest child of John Moore Scurlock and Katherine V. Thompson, was b. ca 1845 (Census) and was about two years of age when the family moved from Alabama to Texas. When her two brothers, James W. and Malcom V., entered the Army of the Confederacy in 1862, she was 17 years of age. In a special effort to keep their spirits up and keep them informed concerning the home front, including the activities of family and friends, she embarked on an almost continuous letter-writing effort. This was not an easy task, since writing materials, paper and envelopes were quite scarce; and often she was forced to use any kind of paper that came to hand, and to make her own envelopes. Then, too, it was impossible to send her letters by messengers, who were running considerable risk to deliver by hand, letters addressed to persons behind the enemy lines. As a result of her efforts much more is known of the members of the family, and of the hardships suffered during those years.

One of her brothers, Malcom V. Scurlock, died in the service. Her grandfather, Malcom Thompson; her uncle, James Franklin Scurlock; and her cousin, Thomas Alfred Scurlock; also died in the service. Her other brother, James W. Scurlock, survived the war. He had saved the letters he received from Mollie, and they have been handed down through his children and grandchildren. We are indebted to Mrs. Wayne C. Morrow, RFD 1, Rus Texas, for copies of these letters. Mrs. Morrow is descended from C. E., known as Kate, oldest daughter of James W. Scurlock and Mattie Priestly. Selected quotes from these letters are included elsewhere in this document.

Mary A., or Mollie, m. William C. Jones, b. June 7, 1830, d. Sept. 26, 1895, bur. Jones Cemetery, Cherokee County, Texas; marriage date Nov. 21, 1866 (Book C-2, Page 55, Cherokee County Records). Information still to be secured may indicate the date and place of Mollie's death. It is reported that three children were born of this union - surname Jones, but little is known of them other than their names and dates of birth, as follows:

CHAPTER

DESCENDANTS OF T. A. S. THROUGH JUDAH ELIZABETH SCURLOCK

Doubtless every person who has been engaged in genealogical research has, at some time, marveled at how much they knew of an individual, and at the same time how little they knew of that person. Such is the situation in which we find ourselves with respect to this member of the family of the earliest known ancestor in America. There is considerable evidence of this individual's place in the family constellation, approximate date of birth, her marriage, and later movements. With all of this, however, the usual specific proof data is yet to be uncovered, which hopefully will be done by some future researcher as he endeavors to carry this study forward.

Generation 2

Judah Elizabeth (III-4) Scurlock, known as "Jane" - Thomas
ca 1819 -

Judah Elizabeth Scurlock was the sixth child born to Thomas A. Scurlock and his wife Anne. She was born Nov. 16, 1819, South Carolina (Family record and Census), date and place to be determined. She was the last of the children born in South Carolina, and must have been a babe in arms when the family moved from South Carolina to Tennessee. Later the family moved from Lincoln County, Tennessee to Jackson County, Alabama. About 1837 she married James C. McDougal, b. ca 1813, North Carolina, date and place to be determined. In 1850 the family appeared in the Census in Pickens County, Alabama, and 1860 and 1870 in Lowndes County, Mississippi.

DESCENDANTS OF T. A. S. THROUGH JUDAH ELIZABETH SCURLOCK

Apparently seven children were born to this union - surname McDougal:

- i Brancy A., b. ca 1838;
- ii Adalisa or Albina, b. ca 1846;
- iii Felix G., b. ca 1849;
- iv Ray Rebecca, b. ca 1850;
- v Virginia, b. ca 1851;
- vi Alice, b. ca 1853;
- vii John, b. ca 1855.

Family tradition has it that one of the daughters of Thomas A. and Anne Scurlock married a McDougal. Of the six girls born to this family, five married. Names of the husbands of the other four are know, along with other information concerning them, which is provable beyond doubt. This leaves only Judah Elizabeth, or Jane, as she was known to her family.

There is other evidence, however. In the letters retained by James W. Scurlock, which he received from his sister, Mollie and others, during the War Between the States, is one dated Sept. 1, 1864, signed, Binie. There are strong reasons to believe this letter was written by the second daughter of Jane and James C. McDougal, listed as "Adalisa" in the 1950 Census in Pickens County, Alabama; and as "Albina" in the 1860 Census in Lowndes County, Mississippi. Doubtless Binie was her name so far as the family was concerned. In this letter she mentions so many of the kin, it is quite evident she is related to them. Also, at the top of the page, written upside down, are the words: "Kiss Grandma for Ma me & all." There is little doubt the reference is to Anne, surviving wife of Thomas A. Scurlock.

There is even more evidence that Jane McDougal of the Census record was, in fact, Judah Elizabeth Scurlock. Mollie Scurlock, in a letter to her brother, James, dated August 30, 1962, makes reference to a report that he, James, had been sent to "Macon hospital". Then she adds: "We knew not whether you were dead or alive. Jimmie, we are all sorry that you did not know where Uncle McDougal lived, for if you could have gone there you would have been almost home, I expect. He lived in Lowndes County, not far from Columbua the last we heard of him. His post office was Arteria. If you learn anything of him you must write to us if you can for we would like very well to hear from him."

Family tradition is that Jane McDougal moved from Columbus, Mississippi to Sherman, Texas, with no dates mentioned. Repeated efforts to find a trace of this family, both in Grayson County, Texas and Lowndes County, Mississippi have failed, although the efforts are continuing.

DESCENDANTS OF T. A. S. THROUGH THOMAS ASBURY SCURLOCK

Generation 2 Thomas Asbury (VI) Scurlock - Thomas A.
1825 - ca 1880

Thomas Asbury Scurlock, ninth child born to Thomas A. and Anne Scurlock, was b. Nov. 8, 1825 in Tennessee, and d. ca 1880 in Texas, exact date and place to be determined. He was a farmer, teacher, Methodist Minister, and Circuit Rider. It is said he was given his middle name, Asbury, after one of the early Methodist Bishops in America.

Following the death of his father in April, 1847, he, along with his mother, Anne, and several of his sisters migrated from their home in Jackson County, Alabama to Cherokee County, Texas, settling near the town of Rusk. He would have been 22 at this time, and the long trip by wagons with all of the hardships involved must have taxed the courage and determination of such a young man. Usually a group of families, often neighbors and friends, traveled together. This may have been the arrangement in this instance, but details are lacking.

The 1850 census for Cherokee County shows him as a teacher, living with his mother, Anne, and his younger sister, Lucinda A. E. At that time he was single. Thomas Asbury Scurlock was m. three times: 1st, to Julia Ann Smith, April 7, 1852, in Freestone County; and divorced, 1856, in Cherokee County, Texas. So far as is known, there were no children born to this union. He m. 2nd, Guanda Reed, dates and places to be determined. She is believed to have been of Indian descent. DESCENDANTS OF T. A. S. THROUGH LUCINDA ADLIZA SCURLOCK Generation 2 Lucinda Adliza (VII-8) Scurlock - Thomas A.

The youngest surviving dau. of Thomas A. and Anne Scurlock, Lucinda Adliza Scurlock, was a twin. Her twin sister, Charity Alisa Scurlock died in Jackson County, Ala. at age eleven. Lucinda Adliza was b. July 23, 1829, in Lincoln County, Tennessee, and d. Sept. 19, 1910, at Post Oak, Jack County, Texas.

She was 18 years of age when the family, comprised of her mother, two sisters, and an unmarried brother, made the long trip from Jackson County, Alabama to Cherokee County, Texas in 1947, following the death of her father in the spring of that year. Doubtless they traveled as part of a caravan made up of neighbors and friends traveling to the same general area. Nevertheless the hardships of that long journey over trackless miles of rough country with slow-moving wagons, cannot be adequately described or imagined by persons living a hundred thirty years later.

In 1852, Jan. 6, Lucinda Adliza Scurlock m. Andrew M. Hood, b. Oct., 1823, Tennessee. The wedding was in Cherokee County, Texas. Following her marriage, the family moved to Grandview, Johnson County, Texas, doubtless at the behest of her oldest brother, James Franklin Scurlock, founder of the town of Grandview. Andrew M. Hood d. Oct. 2, 1863, while serving in the Army of the Confederacy in the War Between the States.
